Having reviewed the representations received, I note that HSE raise no objection, and that the others effectively re-iterate representations that were made on the original planning application previously. As such, these do not raise any new matters for us to comment on and, with all issues raised previously having been addressed already in the documents submitted with the Notice of Review, we have no further submissions to make at this time. At the same time, in the absence of any new matters being raised, there is no reason not to approve the application for the reasons given in the statement submitted with the Notice of Review, and we would ask that it is therefore approved for the reasons given in that accordingly.

Kind regards

Pippa
